Five Persons Killed on State Roads

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Five persons were killed in Arkansas Saturday. The deaths boosted to 13 the number of violent deaths reported in the state during the week which ended at midnight Sunday. Traffic accidents claimed eight lives, three persons were shot to death, one drowned and one strangled.

Jennie Nanette Purcell, 9, of Star City, was strangled Saturday while playing with a dog chain near her home. Lincoln County Coroner Grant G. Griffin said the chain apparently caught on a tree limb and looped around the child's neck. Toney Mac Davenport, 18, of Sheridan, was killed when his car went out of control and plunged into a ravine off U. S. Highway 270 near Sheridan Saturday night. Albert Jenkins, Negro of Altheimer, was killed when his car overturned and pinned him beneath it on the Reed Lake Road about 14 miles northeast of Pine Bluff Saturday.

Jackie Dean Haynes, 10, of Bald Knob died of a gunshot wound received when his rifle discharged accidentally while he was hunting Sunday. Charles West, a 32-year-old Little Rock Negro, was shot to death Saturday and police charged Canzella Murry, a Negro woman, in connection with the slaying. Officers quoted her as saying the gun discharged while she and West were "playing."

Bryan Reed, 64, Dies Saturday Near Ozan

Bryan Reed, aged 64, a retired farmer, was found dead Saturday at his home near Ozan. He had lived in Hempstead many years. Survivors include a son, Fletcher Reed of St. Louis; two sisters, Mrs. Bama Dillard of Ozan and Mrs. Exa Dillard of Mineral Springs. Services will be held at 4 p. m. Monday at Sardis Church, near Ozan, by the Rev. Rufus Sorrell. Burial will be in Sardis Cemetery by Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Home in charge. Active pallbearers: Orville Taylor, Donald Huckabee, Rush Jones, Monroe Stuart, Sloan Goudlett and Wallace Reed.

Derailment at Bay, Ark. Hurts 20

BAY, Ark. (AP) — A freight train derailed and slammed into a passenger train parked on a siding Sunday night, injuring at least 20 persons. There were no deaths reported, but attendants at a Jonesboro, Ark., hospital where the injured were taken said at least five of them were critical.

Thurman Adam, a porter, said a hubbox caused a wheel to fly off one of the freight cars as the freight rumbled by the motionless passenger train. Adam said in the chain reaction that followed about 20 of the freight's 88 cars left the tracks. Some piled onto the overturned passenger train. The engine of the passenger train was knocked into a nearby cotton field. Frisco officials said the passenger train had been switched to a siding to allow the freight to pass. They said the freight had slowed to about 15 miles an hour. The passenger train's single coach was carrying about 35 persons, most of them Frisco employees on their way to work at a railroad yard construction site. The train was on route from Springfield, Mo., to Memphis, Tenn.

Rain Hits Many Areas of the U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain and drizzle persisted Sunday night along a cold front stretching from the Great Lakes to Texas. The nearly stationary mass of cool air appeared unable to push eastward into areas sweltering in record-breaking heat. "Tropical air over the eastern third of the country pushed temperatures into the 90s Sunday from Pennsylvania southwest to Texas. Presidio, Tex., was the hottest with a reading of 101 degrees. Fog and drizzle covered the New England coast but skies were fair and the night was warm elsewhere in the East and Southeast. Early morning temperatures were in the 70s over much of the area. Rains continued to drench the Chicago area, adding 3.40 inches over the weekend for September total of 11.72 inches. The previous September high was 8.97 inches in 1956. High winds accompanied the rain in scattered areas of Illinois, Indiana and Missouri. A roof was torn from a gymnasium in Shelby County, Ind. Funnel clouds were sighted near Marietta, Ill. and Caledonia, Mo. Two inches of rain, accompanied by large hail, flattened cotton fields near Big Spring, Tex.

Rights Board Would End Segregation

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Rights Commission called today for action by the President and Congress to speed school desegregation.

"The nation's progress in removing the stultifying effects of segregation in the public elementary and secondary schools—North, South, East and West—is slow indeed," the commission said.

The six commission members were unanimous in recommending that Congress require every local school board that operates segregated schools to file a desegregation plan with the federal government within six months.

Such plans would have to call for at least a first step toward full compliance with the Supreme Court's 1954 desegregation decision at the beginning of the following school year. Desegregation is to be completed as soon as practicable.

Sens. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., have introduced a similar bill in Congress.

One commission member, Robert S. Rankin, chairman of Duke University's political science department, dissented from another recommendation. This was a proposal that Congress withhold from a state up to 50 per cent of the federal education grants normally available unless all its public schools are operated on a nondiscriminatory basis.

Rankin said the recommendation's net effect "might be punitive" and that he did not believe "that school children should be made to suffer for the errors of their elders."

There was no dissent from a proposal that federal funds be withheld from publicly controlled institutions of higher education which discriminate on grounds of race, color, religion or national origin.

Four of the six commissioners said federal aid also should be shut off from privately controlled institutions that maintain segregation.

Khrushchev Removes Deadline

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BONN, Germany (AP) — Premier Khrushchev removed the end-of-the-year deadline for a treaty with East Germany in his talks with Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henry Spaak, diplomatic sources reported today. "Khrushchev reportedly told Spaak that the Soviet Union prefers slow negotiations to a quick war," these sources said. Spaak reported to the council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization last Thursday on his five-hour talks with Khrushchev in Moscow on the previous Tuesday.

Khrushchev was said to have told Spaak he never had committed himself to signing a peace treaty with East Germany before the end of this year.

German officials expressed surprise at this. On several occasions Khrushchev has declared that he will sign a treaty with East Germany before the end of the year, turning over control of access to West Berlin to the East German Communist regime, unless the West agrees to a German pact on its terms.

"As far as we know he has said this a number of times," officials said.

Diplomats said they understood the Spaak report to mean that Khrushchev now proposes to delay signing an East German peace treaty if negotiations are under way by the end of the year.

Khrushchev also was reported to have told Spaak he was ready to discuss with the Western powers other subjects beside Berlin and Germany.

One West German official said Khrushchev's line in talks with Spaak, a former secretary-general of NATO, was "most conciliatory." West German officials were not optimistic, however, despite Spaak's report.

"We heard the message," said one, "but we don't believe it. He has taken on the face of a mild and compromising person for this occasion."

Diplomats said despite Khrushchev's relatively mild attitude, he remained firm against including the status of East Berlin in any East-West negotiations. He took the line that East Berlin is the capital of East Germany and cannot be discussed.

Only recently, in agreeing that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko would meet with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the United Nations to sound out the possibility of negotiations, the Soviet foreign minister said the talks would be limited to the status of West Berlin based on an East German peace treaty.

The West has insisted that other subjects creating tension should be discussed as well. The attitude of the West has been that Khrushchev was trying to negotiate only for what the West now holds, nothing that the East holds.

No Question About Using Nuclear Arms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says "there is no question" that President Kennedy is prepared to use nuclear weapons to maintain the Allies' position in Berlin.

Appearing on an NBC television interview program Sunday — "Meet the Press"—the attorney general said: "The President and the free world are willing to use nuclear weapons to preserve our position in Berlin, to insure that the people of Berlin remain free and that we have access to that city."

"The attorney general said he 'would hope' that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has come to this realization within the last few weeks.

Robert Kennedy said that the matter of possible use of nuclear weapons probably takes more of his brother's time and thoughts than anything else, "because when we are talking about using nuclear weapons we are talking about almost the destruction of the human race—at least a very large proportion of it."

"But on this question of Berlin and on the question of principle, and the question of whether in a particular set of circumstances if we retreat that we would never be able to stand up again, that in that particular area, as we are in Berlin at the present time, there is no question that he is prepared to use nuclear weapons."

"If it comes to that he will use nuclear weapons."

The attorney general's remarks were part of a response to questions based on a Senate speech Thursday by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine. Mrs. Smith criticized President Kennedy's efforts to build up conventional military strength. "We have practically told Khrushchev," she said, "we do not have the will to use that one power (nuclear) with which we can stop him."

Nevada Co. Fair Very Successful

The 25th Annual Nevada County Fair which ended Friday was attended by record crowds, according to Ellis Stewart, general manager. Several thousand spectators jammed the streets in the business district here Wednesday morning to view the parade that officially opened the fair.

Leading the parade were color guards followed by convalescents carrying Arkansas Forest Queen, Miss Donna Axum of El Dorado, and candidates for Nevada County Fair Queen. Also in the parade were ten floats depicting the Civil War era which was the theme of this year's fair.

Lanburg school had the winning float, "Lest We Forget 1863." Mr. Stewart said the highlights of the fair was the horse show and fireworks display Wednesday night and the selection and crowning on Thursday night of the fair queen, Miss Janice Ann Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Cooper of Williamsville.

Awards made to exhibitors were champion dairy cow; Mrs. Pat Simpson, reserve champion; and Hamp Miller, Champion Dairy bull; David McDonald, reserve champion bull. Fat Calf Division: David Puth, 1st place and William Hillery, 2nd place. Beef Cattle Division: David and Charles Puth, champion bull; Homer Puth, reserve champion bull; Champion Female and Reserve Champion Female.

Harry Almond, Lanburg won 1st place in the Junior Hybrid Corn Show. In the Scars 4-H Poultry Chain, Elaine Ray Stinson of Prescott exhibited the top pen of pullets.

Challenges Russia to Drop the Arms Race

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Kennedy declared today that no Soviet treaty with East Germany can disturb Western rights in Berlin. He told the United Nations it is ridiculous to charge that the West threatens war merely to block a paper treaty.

Kennedy, in a wide-ranging address which emphasized "firmness and reason" in international dealings, challenged the Soviet Union to a peace race instead of an arms race.

The chief executive said the United States will present shortly a program for step-by-step disarmament based on the principle of the "general and complete disarmament" which has been the propaganda plank of the Soviets in approaching disarmament talks.

But Kennedy said a disarmament agreement must be accompanied by effective international control vested in the United Nations.

As for the international organization, Kennedy attacked the Soviet proposal that the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld's strong leadership be replaced by a three-sided executive.

In this time above all others, Kennedy said, the U.N. charter must be strengthened. To do this, he added, the international body must select "an outstanding civil servant" to carry forward the responsibilities of the secretary-general.

Of the Soviet plan, he said: "To install a triumvirate or any panel or rotating authority, in the United Nations administrative offices would replace order with anarchy, action with paralysis, and confidence with gross confusion."

Kennedy touched on world trouble spots and solutions to the causes of cold war conflict in his first appearance before the General Assembly.

In his prepared text he was most specific about halting the spread of atomic weapons. He said the new U.S. disarmament program, which may be set forth in detail within 24 hours, would include a proposal for all nations to sign a nuclear test ban treaty.

"Test ban negotiations need not and should not await general disarmament talks," Kennedy said to counter Soviet insistence that discussion of a nuclear treaty be wrapped into over-all disarmament negotiations.

Kennedy advocated a special U.N. power to keep the peace throughout the world. He recommended that all member nations earmark special peace-keeping units in their armed forces to be on call to prevent aggression.

Kennedy pointed directly to threats of peace in Laos and in Germany.

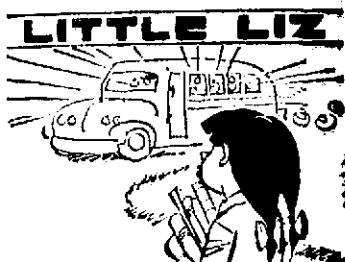

For the first time he personally emphasized that in connection with a Soviet-East German pact that "the Western allies are not concerned with any paper arrangement the Soviets wish to make with a regime of their own creation, on territory occupied by their own troops and governed by their own agents."

But to make the United States' position clear, he asserted: "No such action can affect either our rights or our responsibilities."

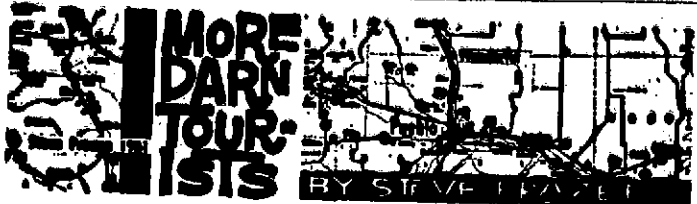

He said the Western powers cannot surrender the freedom of West Berlin or their commitments in Germany.

"A 'peace treaty' which would destroy the peace would be a fraud," he said. "A 'free city' which would suffocate freedom

Stalup and Finnegan cruised the crowd and tried to estimate the number of flatlanders who had been detained for the event. Near some shrubbery they came upon Happy Holzapfel and Police Chief Wronker.

"Two bits a head wouldn't have hurt anyone," Holzapfel said. "We've gone to a lot of work here."

A hush fell when the immediate park lights went off and the stage lights came on. Connie Meyers was at the microphone, wearing her version of the dress of a lady of low fidelity and high frequency of the 1980 era.

"Welcome to the first performance of 'Perils of the West', under the inspired direction of that noted Broadway figure, Miss Stephanie Hamilton. Tonight we will reenact eight scenes from the early history of this community, some of them quite accurate, others to be viewed at your own risk. The first skit is . . ."

Listening from her front porch, Belinda snorted. Though she had vowed to boycott the preposterous thing that had unaccountably drawn so many gaping peasants, Belinda decided that it might be necessary to go over a little later in order to be able to criticize with authority when people asked her why the performance had been such a miserable failure.

The stage lights went out. When they came on dim, a fire sprang from a sand-filled dishpan on the stage, and around it were five shaggy Mountain Men boiling a pot of moccasins for lunch.

Kaintuck and Noears, respectively played by the Chief and Xavier, were getting into their famous argument. Little John, admirably cast as Big Foot, was stirring the pot and wondering if the moccasins really were good enough to eat. He'd come straight from the grocery store without a chance to have his dinner. He lifted a moccasin on a stick and sized it up speculatively.

It would put realism into the scene if he actually ate a moccasin.

But just then Kaintuck shoved Noears violently and Noears fell over Little John and went rolling to grab his rifle gun. Kneeling, Noears shot. Kaintuck reeled back, clutching his bosom and then he fell and rolled off the back of the platform, where, as Connie had explained, the Arkansas River was running.

Noears blew smoke from the barrel of his weapon and tromped over to the fire. "Yall take notice that I got foh moccasins coming to me, yall heah?" Out in the crowd, Mr. Tarrant modestly explained to his friends that he had given Noears some help with his lines.

Presently Kaintuck returned to confront Noears with a big Green River knife, one foot of deadly rubber blade. They staged a fight which made the crowd whoop and during the altercation Little John got kicked in the nose.

Palming large capsules of ketchup, Kaintuck and Noears battled fiercely, smearing each other liberally with gore, until Noears got ripped clean up the bris- ket and expired with a thump and a groan. Kaintuck wiped his knife in Little John's hair and then pulled out the sheaf of tracts. From the middle of the papers he extracted the rifle ball.

With one foot on Noears' neck, Kaintuck waved aloft the life-saving tracts.

"Why, that's pure wonderful!" Big Foot explained and went back to rubbing his smarting nose.

Councilman Heidegger, feeling mean and gaseous and ill used after his hearty dinner of pizza, potatoes, and cherry cobbler, four measures of the last had worked through the crowd to Dr. Maceth, who was enjoying the show immensely.

"Doc, I can't find that trouble you said I got nowhere in any book."

"What was that?"

"Vesicular Anthema."

Maceth listened as Connie outlined the net skit, goldseekers whooping it up in old Three-Finger McCarthy's place when Pointy Foot Kate dealt faro there.

"I knew her," Maceth said. "It was long after she dealt faro, but—"

"It's after every meal, see? My stomach sort of gets riled up or something and—"

"—she told me one time the real truth behind the trouble" when Sheriff Hazelton ran for office the second term.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—President Kennedy lays before the United Nations and an anxious world today a statement of U.S. policy in the cold war that probably will include a new disarmament plan.

In a major speech to the U.N. General Assembly that has been weeks in drafting, Kennedy was prepared to emphasize that the United States aims for a peaceful solution of such angry issues as Berlin without yielding a single basic right or obligation.

With the avowedly neutral nations in mind, the President is expected to state the U.S. position for peace through a vigorous United Nations.

Kennedy's first appearance before the General Assembly came at a time when the United Nations faced internal crisis, brought on by Soviet opposition to attempts to replace Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld—killed in a plane crash in Africa.

Kennedy completed the draft of his speech Sunday. He showed it to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other foreign affairs advisers after landing in New York from a weekend at his summer home on Cape Cod.

Crowds lined the sidewalks of Manhattan's upper East Side as the Kennedy motorcade traveled from La Guardia field to his 34th floor suite in the Carlyle Hotel.

Immediately on arrival he conferred with Rusk, Arthur H. Dean, John J. McCloy and Assistant Secretary of State Harlan Cleveland.

Dean is a member of the U.S. delegation to the General Assembly and served as this country's chief negotiator in the nuclear test ban talks that collapsed in Geneva. McCloy is Kennedy's top disarmament adviser.

Ahead of Kennedy's appearance the Soviet Union released through the Soviet news agency Tass a disarmament memorandum to General Assembly President Mongi Slim. The document again asserted Moscow's readiness to accept any Western proposals for control if the West agrees to Premier Khrushchev's plan for general and complete disarmament.

Khrushchev presented his plan to the General Assembly last year. It was turned down by the Western powers as unrealistic.

Western sources could find little new in the memorandum, which referred to last week's report to the assembly by the United States and the Soviet Union agreeing on certain disarmament principles. That report, however, showed the two powers could not agree on ways to reopen East-West disarmament negotiations.

Ex-Cabinet Member Dies at Age of 68

BERNARDSVILLE, N.J. (AP)

—Summer, Welles, 68, undersecretary of state for six years during the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is dead.

Welles died early Sunday at the home of his wife's family after an illness of three weeks. He had suffered a heart attack some years ago.

A specialist in Latin American affairs, Welles was credited with coining the phrase, "good neighbor policy," and of persuading President Roosevelt to pursue such a policy.

Welles served briefly as ambassador to Cuba and later was in charge of the State Department's division of Latin American affairs.

He was one of the principal American diplomats assigned by Roosevelt to work on the formulation and organization of the United Nations.

Welles was named assistant secretary of state in 1933 after Roosevelt's inauguration. He was promoted to undersecretary, the No. 2 position in the State Department, four years later.

His resignation in the summer of 1943 was believed to have resulted from a clash of personalities with Secretary of State Cordell Hull. Hull was said to have resented Welles' habit of going directly to the White House with problems and advice.

Peace in GM Plants to Return Today

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP)—Peace was expected to return today to the world's largest manufacturing empire—General Motors Corp.

The United Auto Workers Union ordered two weeks of crippling strikes ended Sunday night and instructed all workers to return to their jobs today—or as soon as GM is ready for them.

While decreeing peace with GM, with the completion of a new three-year contract, the UAW authorized open warfare against Ford Motor Co. if it doesn't meet or beat the new GM terms.

The UAW's International Executive Board authorized both the strike-ending and strike-threatening moves in a 5½-hour meeting.

The board has over-all power within the union.

The UAW had let negotiations slide at both Ford and Chrysler Corp., while a new pattern-setting pact was hammered out at GM.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther already has said "Ford's will be the next door I knock on."

The date of any strike was left to the UAW's bargaining team here. Ken Bannan, UAW Ford Department director, said, "Things must get moving as of today."

The GM package includes: 1. A national economic agreement covering wages and fringe benefits; 2. a national noneconomic pact establishing a uniform rest period and the like, and 3. at-the-plant work rules.

It was local strikes over the latter that knocked out GM for almost two weeks.

Non-farm jobs are increasing in Arkansas at the rate of 6,900 per year.

"Our Boy Grew Up Too Fast"

HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My husband and I are at our wits end about our eldest son. Three years ago while in the Air Force he secretly married a girl as giddy as he is serious. It had been his dream to enter the ministry but a growing family and mounting expenses ended that. Once out of the service, he worked by day and studied by night.

Of necessity he was seldom home. His wife weekendend in another city with his best friend. This broke up the marriage and our boy came to live with us.

He'd sit staring at the floor, saying nothing. Once, he broke down and sobbed like a child. Then he ran into a girl whom he'd known in high school. We were glad at least until we learned she had a husband in the service.

We warned our son but he'd gone daft over her. Her parents shipped her to the island where her husband was based. Our boy sold his car and used the money to bring her back.

Now, she's returned to her husband and we're afraid of what our son may do. He pounds the table and beats the walls with his fists. Not that we blame him—married at 18 and divorced at 21 with an ex-wife and two children to support. Let alone a sweetheart.

Should we keep on helping him? If his alimony isn't paid he will go to jail. What can we do? I guess our boy just grew up to fast. —Heartbroken Parents

Dear Heartbroken Parents: I'm afraid your son never grew up at all or he would not behave like an adolescent and pound his fists when life closes in around him. Stop wrapping him in "cotton" batting. Encourage him to face his responsibilities. Call a halt to his mounting expenses and demand that, once out of the service, he work to amount to anything, he must sink or swim by himself.

Dear Helen: My steady plays hard to get and needn't because she knows she's got me hooked, line and sinker.

She sits in a restaurant and stares at the boy who works there; lets another boy blow cigarette smoke into her mouth; leaves me standing at the ticket booth of the movie theatre while she talks to an usher; crosses the room to visit with a kid she used to go steady with; goes to dances with boys I don't know and tells me about it afterward. She says she does all these things because she thinks I don't care. I'm 19, she 16. Should I grin and bear it? —Tormented

Dear Tormented: There's no law against your stepping out too. Give the young lady a dose of her own medicine. Play the field.

Dear Helen, I'm a cradle

$18 Million Spent on 2nd 'Bounty'

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How does it feel to spend $18 million? Not bad, says Aaron Rosenberg. He is clear of eye, light of foot and free of ulcers.

In fact, you would hardly know that he is spending a record sum for any movie and inheriting a record number of headaches with it. He is producing the second "Mutiny On The Bounty."

"Spending umpteen million on a movie is no different than spending boom millions," said Rosenberg, a man who uses his own style of calculation. "The only difference is the bills come larger."

So do the rumors. There have been all kinds about the massive production, which started last Nov. 28 and will finish in three snatcher but see no harm in it. The lady is 20, I am 70. Like me, she's smiling, good-natured and friendly. Every time I go to see her I bring something from my garden. Once I slipped a dollar bill in her dress pocket. Laughingly, she handed it back but, when I returned the money, kept it.

How can I win her heart? She has mine. When I tell her so she remains silent. I doubt she's a flirt — too much on the beam for that. Any suggestions? —Sincere

Dear Sincere: Remember that "there's no fool like an old fool." Take warning. The difference in your ages is too great. If you really loved the girl you would protect her — from yourself. Should she refuse to let go, then you need protection. Run, while the running's good.

Plane Skids Off Runway, 71 Escape

BOSTON (AP) — A four-engine

Astrojet 707 carrying 71 persons skidded off a runway Sunday and dropped into shallow water in the harbor.

No one aboard the American weeks. The most recurrent one is that star Marlon Brando has been the cause of delays for various reasons.

Brando, who seldom reacts to what is printed about him, is hoping mad about the reports. Rosenberg added his endorsement for the star.

"The reports are nonsense," the producer said. "Then what has caused the delays?"

Rosenberg rattled them off by the dozen:

The Bounty replica was four months late in delivery. "It was a bad year for lumber," the writers' strike stalled production. The film had to start with half a script because of actor commitments. The ship delay put the company in Tahiti at the rainy season.

Carol Reed was replaced as director by Louis Milestone. "The dispute was between Reed and me over how the film was to be shot. Marlon was not involved," an alcoholic actor kicked up a fuss and was sent home. Another actor died.

Even with all the problems, the mind fails to comprehend how $18 million can be spent on one motion picture.

"It's easy," the producer explained. "You've got 2 million tied up in a cast. Another 2 million goes to build, outfit and man the Bounty. You spend half a million for the story rights from MGM. Four and a half million go to the studio for overhead—30 per cent of the total bill.

"Then you have director cost—two of them, and script charges; we've had five writers, none of them cheap. You spend a couple of million on the Tahiti location. Take a few items like 1,000 canned and you see how it mounts up."

Airlines plane was killed. Small boats rescued those aboard within six minutes, an airline official said. Two passengers and a stewardess were treated at hospitals for minor injuries and released.

Airline officials said sent belts helped avert more serious injuries.

One man died of a heart attack rescuing passengers in a small boat.

The big plane slid into the water a few feet from the spot where an Eastern Air Lines Electra crashed into the harbor on take off almost a year ago with a loss of 62 lives.

The 707 — American Airline's Flight 44 from San Francisco and Chicago — was making an instrument landing in the dark and overshot the 10,000-foot runway, an air line spokesman said.

Stewardess Connie Forbes said some of the passengers were shaken up but there was no panic. The $5-million plane, its No. 1 and 2 engines torn off and its nose damaged, stopped in five or six feet of water. Four stewardesses led the passengers out on the wings.

Taken to the hospitals were Charles Ivace, 38, Kenosha, Wis.; Lillian Rochelleau, 51, Westboro, Mass. and a stewardess Sheila Homan of Lowell, Mass., and Burlington, Calif.

Most of the rescued were brought to the Orient Heights Yacht Club. It was during one such boat trip that Jack Luti, about 50, of Beachmont, suffered his fatal heart attack.

Susan Sheffield, 19, of Highland Park, Ill., a student returning to school in Boston, said Luti collapsed in his boat as it approached the yacht club.

A beluga whale's heart thumps only 12 to 20 times a minute, compared with a man's average of 70-72.

Episcopal Showdown Forthcoming

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

Associated Press Religion Writer

DETROIT (AP)—A clash over the conduct of the National Council of Churches moved toward a showdown today at the Episcopal general convention.

Up for consideration in the House of Deputies, the lay-clerical chamber of the bi-annual church congress, were several resolutions aimed at curbing the council, or severing ties with it.

The council, an interdenominational cooperative body made up of representatives of 33 denominations with nearly 40-million members, includes most of the nation's major Protestant, Orthodox and non-Roman Catholic bodies. It has been under running fire from various individuals and groups in the country, some of whom accuse it of being too easy on communism, although the council has repeatedly denounced communism.

One of the regular accusers, The Rev. Carl McIntire, Collingswood, N.J., "Bible Presbyterian," showed up here, distributing an "Episcopalian packet" denouncing the council.

The packet also contained articles condemning church reunion moves, and charging some episcopal leaders with heretical teachings.

The approximately 900 voting delegates to the convention also have been bombarded with similar literature from sources, in a dozen cities in Arizona, Louisiana, Texas, Ohio, California and elsewhere.

Mailings of such material were received by all delegates before they came here. Some of it also contained racial segregationist leaflets.

To the Friends and Neighbors — We wish to thank you for your sympathy, flowers and food during the recent death of our husband and father.

Lions Hottest Team in the Nat'l Loop

The Detroit Lions have taken up where they left off last year - as the hottest team in the National Football League - and a deep, low howl must go in the direction of their defensive unit.

The Lions, who won seven of their last nine games in 1950 then took the playoff bowl, held the top spot of the Western Conference with a 2-0 record after stilling Baltimore's high-powered offense 16-15 Sunday.

In the season opener a week ago, the Detroit defense throttled Green Bay's juggernaut ground game 17-13, and the Lions now have won seven in a row since last season.

The defending world champion Philadelphia Eagles and Dallas share the Eastern lead. The Eagles had to scrape to get by Washington 14-7 while Dallas downed the brand new Vikings club 21-7, handing the Vikings their first NFL loss.

Everyone else in the NFL evened matters at 1-1 except Pittsburgh, which lost 17-14 to the New York Giants. Green Bay beat San Francisco 30-10 in the Western Conference while Cleveland came from behind to down St. Louis 20-17 in the other Eastern game. Chicago beat Los Angeles 21-17 Saturday night.

Chargers Remain Undefeated

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

When a team beats another three times it should at least give the hint of superiority.

That's what San Diego has done to Houston, the defending American Football League champion, and the hint is strong enough that the Chargers are easy favorites to win the title.

The Chargers haven't lost a game all year, either exhibition or league, and are the only unbeaten team in the field.

Sunday they whipped Houston 34-24, holding a 31-3 lead at the half and coasting in. Twice in the exhibition grind the Chargers laid it on Houston, beating the 1950 champs 27-14 and 35-27.

San Diego tops the Western Division with a 3-0 record, while New York and Boston are tied for the lead in the Eastern Division with 2-1.

New York beat Denver 35-28 and Boston nosed out Buffalo, 23-21 the past weekend to push into the deadlock for the top. Houston fell down to third place with a 1-1 record.

Dallas moved into undisputed second place in the Western Division when the Texans managed to beat Oakland 42-35.

Spahn in 20 Game Ranks for 12th Time

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

National League historians may label 1961 the year of Warren Spahn. The Milwaukee pitcher reached the 300-victory mark in midsummer. Spahn's 20th victory Sunday marked the 12th time he has sealed that peak, breaking his own major league record for left-handers.

The 40-year-old marvel now has won 203 in his career, tying him with Hoss Radbourne for 11th place on the all-time list. His 55 shutouts are tops for a lefty. The only pitchers who have won 20 as often are Walter Johnson (12), Christy Mathewson (13) and Cy Young (16).

Spahn left nothing to chance in his third bid for No. 20. He shut out Chicago with two hits and no runs in the first game of a doubleheader and contributed two doubles and a single. The Cubs won the second game 4-2.

Cincinnati edged a step closer to the pennant despite a 12-5 drubbing at the hands of San Francisco. Because St. Louis beat Los Angeles 8-7, only combination of two Red victories or Dodger defeats would end it.

The Giants scored nine runs in the fourth inning, including a grand slam homer by Orlando Cepeda, routing Joey Jay in the Reds' last home game.

Los Angeles trailed 6-0 at one stage and just missed by one run in a ninth-inning rally. As it turned out the winning run was driven in by Stan Musial's pinch double in the seventh which put the Cards out front 8-5 at that time.

In the other National League game, Pittsburgh put together four straight singles by Dick Groat, Don Clendenon, Dick Stuart and Bob Skinner to score two runs in the seventh for a 4-3 edge over Philadelphia.

Roger Maris failed to hit a homer as the New York Yankees lost to Boston 3-1 in the American League. Dick Donovan of Washington pitched a one-hitter against Minnesota, winning 4-1. Baltimore clinched third place by beating Chicago 5-3 in the second game after losing the opener 8-7. The Cleveland-Kansas City game was washed out in the second inning. Detroit clinched at least a tie for second by shading Los Angeles 7-5 in 10 innings.

Spahn's feat of winning 20 was remarkable considering that he got off slowly and didn't win No. 10 until July 30. He has lost only one of his last 11 decisions.

Few Changes in State Grid Ratings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Little Rock Hall, Ft. Smith and Benton continue to hold down the top three places in The Associated Press' Arkansas schoolboy football poll.

A board of six sports writers gave all first place votes to Hall. Hall beat North Little Rock 20-0 last week for its third straight victory.

Fort Smith won its third straight

Castoff Has Best Earned Run Average

By JACK HAND

Dick Donovan, a reject who was tossed into the talent pool by Chicago when the American League expanded to 10 clubs last winter, shapes up as one of the best stories of the year.

The veteran right-hander, drafted by the lean and player-hungry Washington Senators for $75,000, practically clinched the league's earned run title Sunday when he pitched a one-hitter against the Minnesota Twins. The only hit was a home run by Joe Altobelli with one out in the seventh.

Unofficial pitching averages show Donovan has an earned run mark of 2.32. The nine innings against the Twins gave him 163 for the season, one over the revised required minimum — one inning for every game scheduled. Luis Arroyo of New York and Hoyt Wilhelm of Baltimore have lower averages but they can't qualify on innings pitched.

Considering that Donovan lost his first five, missed almost two months with various ailments, his 10-9 record for a last-place club comes under the heading of minor miracles.

The M and M boys failed to connect for a home run in Boston where Roger Maris settled for a single and Mickey Mantle went hitless as the Yankees lost 3-1 to Bill Monbouquette.

Baltimore clinched third place with a 5-3 second game victory over Chicago after the White Sox took the opener 8-7.

Detroit topped Los Angeles in 10 innings 7-5 when Ken Hunt, whose eighth-inning pinch homer tied the score, dropped a fly ball for a two-run error. The victory assured the Tigers of no worse than a tie for second place.

The Cleveland-Kansas City game was washed out in the second inning and was cancelled. In the National League, Cincinnati needs only two more victories or Los Angeles defeats to clinch the pennant. The Reds lost to San Francisco 12-5 and the Dodgers bowed to St. Louis 8-7.

Milwaukee's Warren Spahn won his 20th game for the 12th time 8-0 in the first game of a doubleheader with Chicago. Pittsburgh shaded Philadelphia 4-3.

6-0 over Pine Bluff, which was ranked fourth this week.

Benton whipped Hot Springs 26-0 for its third in a row and stands at the head of the Class AA ranks. Jonesboro (4-0) is second in Class AA and fifth in the estate and the Blytheville Chicks, winner of three in a row, are sixth in the state.

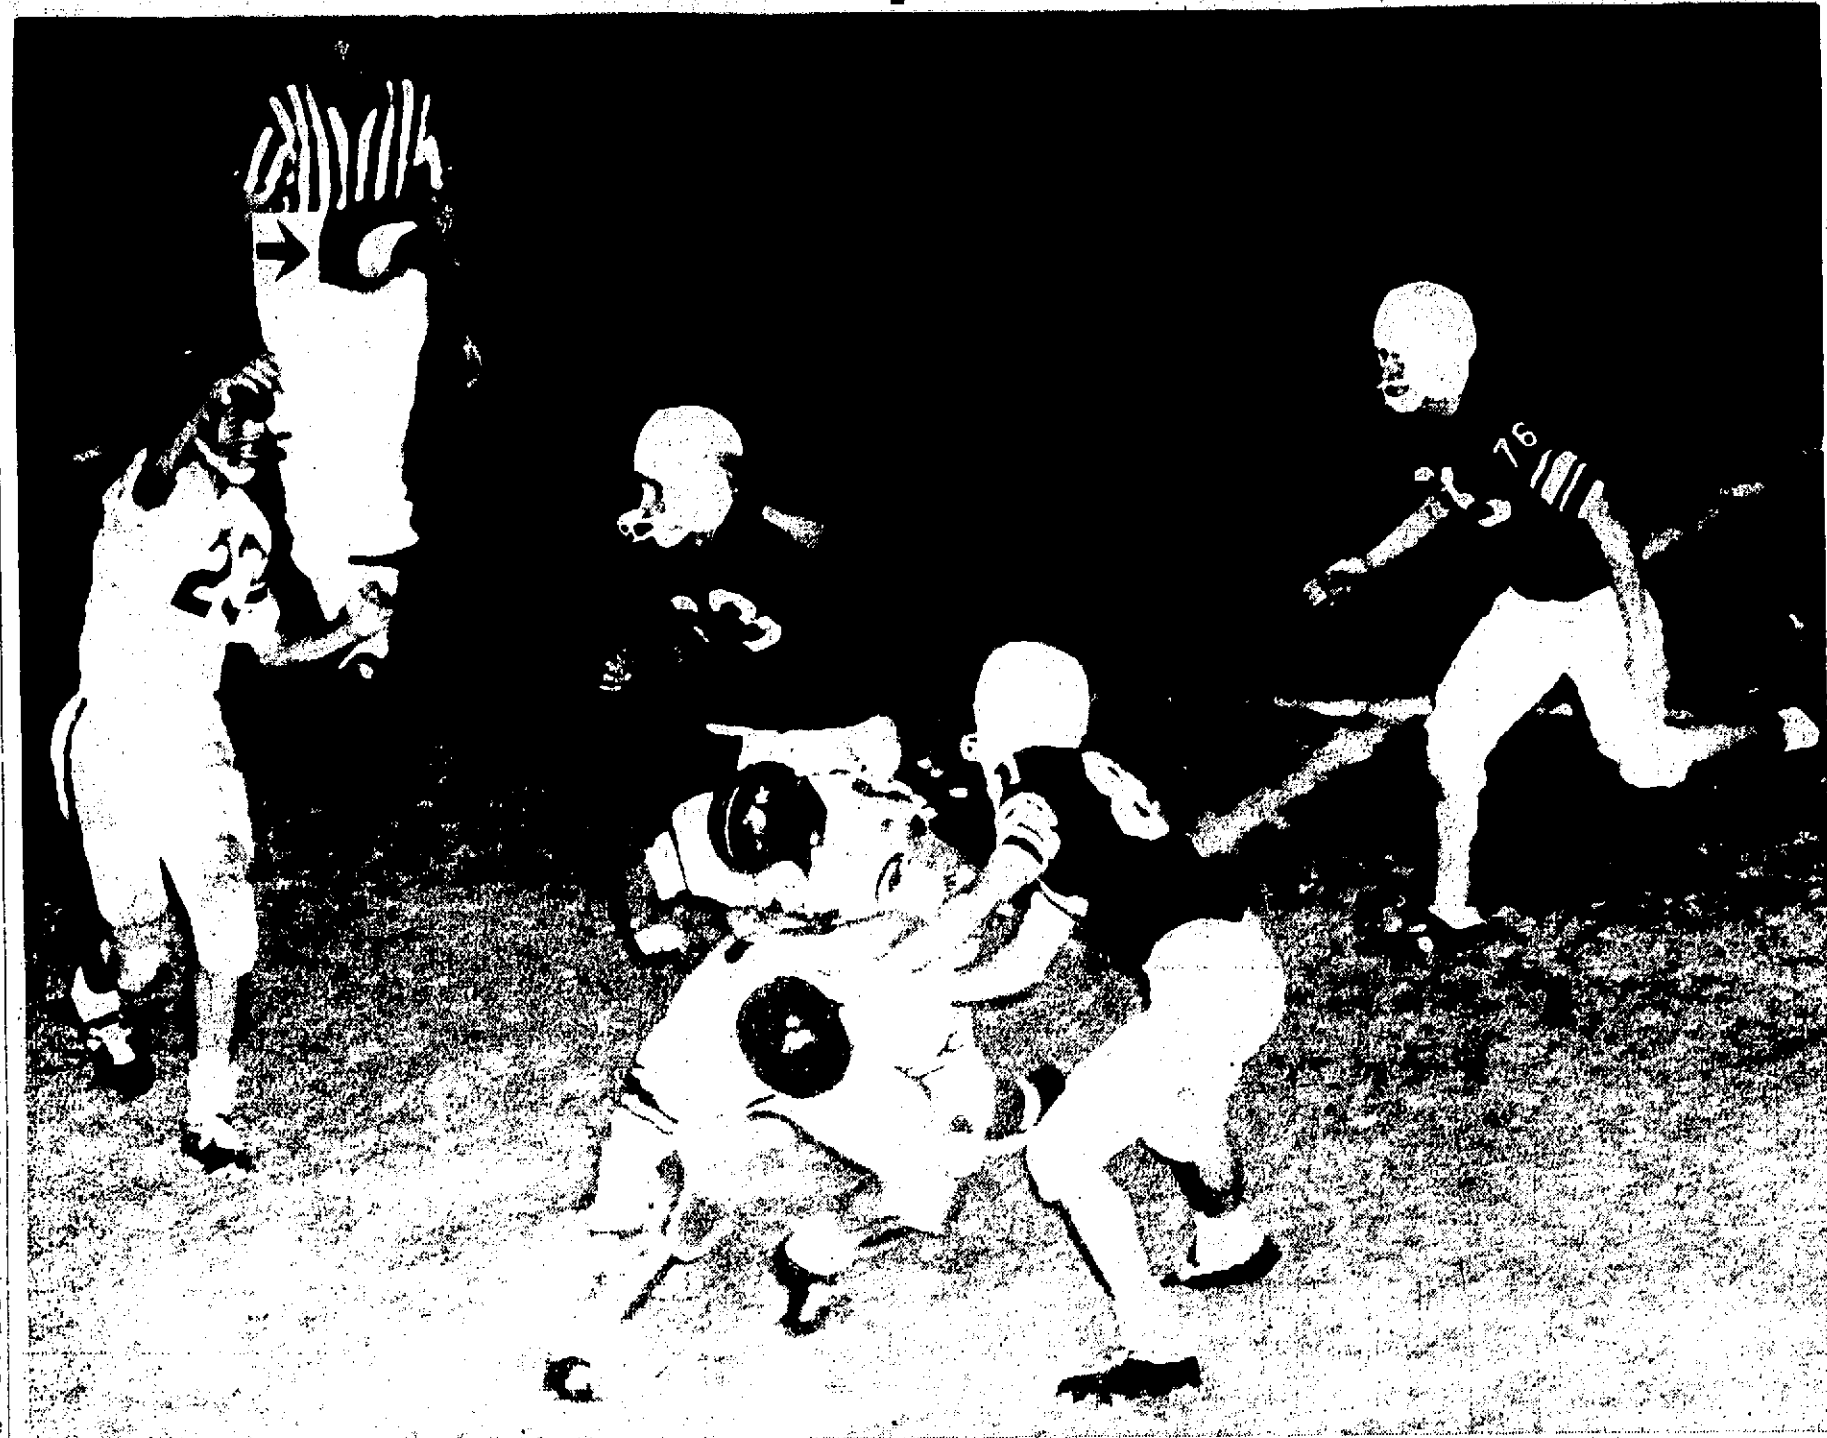

Springdale, the 1AA power, chief competitor, was 11th. Little Rock Central fell to 10th after a 31-0 licking at the hands of Texarkana, Tex.

Here are the AP ratings, with first place votes and records in parentheses and total points at right, based on 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc.

1. Little Rock Hall (3-0) (6) 50
2. Fort Smith (3-0) 49
3. Benton (3-0) 49
4. Pine Bluff (2-1) 38
5. Jonesboro (4-0) 29
6. Blytheville (3-0) 22
7. El Dorado (1-1-1) 18

Bobcats Lose Conference Opener to Smackover 14-12

— Hope Star photo, 15-inch Schneider telephoto from press-box
A HOPE BOBCAT TEAM RATED FOUR TOUCHDOWNS UNDER A SMACKOVER outfit favored to win the District 4-AA crown fought the Buckaroos valiantly in Hammons Stadium Friday night but lost their conference opener 14 to 12.

THIS PLAY, ALSO IN THE SECOND QUARTER, SET UP WHAT WOULD have been Hope's winning touchdown but for a fumble. Bobcat Halfback David Porterfield (29) took the ball on Smackover's 39 and raced around right end for 33 yards to the Smackover 6 and a first down. On the next play Hope fumbled, Smackover took over, and the winning chance was gone.

The Los Angeles Angels averaged 10,413 fans for their first 13 home dates.

Texas, Rice, TCU Defeat Outside Foes

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three of the teams ranked in the top 10 in the preseason Associated Press college football poll got away to belated starts next Saturday. The late starters include Iowa and Ohio State, the Big Ten powers ranked 1 and 2, respectively.

Iowa entertains California at Iowa City, and the Buckeyes are hosts to a surprisingly strong TCU team which upset eighth-ranked Kansas last Saturday 17-16.

The third of the top 10 making its debut is Michigan State, which plunges right into the Big Ten title competition in a game at Wisconsin. The Badgers were hard-pressed to turn back a stubborn Utah eleven on a muddy field last Saturday 7-0.

California was thoroughly beaten by fourth-ranked Texas in its first start 20-3, so Iowa's performance against the Golden Bears will be watched with keen interest.

Aside from Kansas, the only other team in the pre-season top 10 to be upended Saturday was LSU, picked as No. 5. LSU bowed to Rice 16-3 before a crowd of 73,000 at Houston.

Alabama, rated No. 3, indicated it is to be reckoned with for national honors by the way it rolled over Georgia 32-6. Seventh-ranked Penn State had its troubles, but defeated Navy with a last-period surge 20-10.

Mississippi (No. 9) swarmed over Arkansas in a nationally televised game 16-0, and 10th-ranked Syracuse defeated Oregon State 19-8.

Two prolonged losing streaks went by the boards. Virginia, winless in 28 games, snapped out of its doldrums to outscore William and Mary 21-6, and Stanford edged out Tulane 9-7 for its first victory in 12 starts. New Mexico State's 16-game winning streak was stopped by New Mexico 41-7.

In other games Duke barely got by South Carolina 7-6, Wyoming upset North Carolina State 15-14, Kansas State surprised Indiana

Razorbacks Clobbered by Mississippi

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks have two things for which to be thankful today.

The first is that Mississippi scored only 16 points Saturday in its 16-0 victory over the Hogs.

The second is that Tulsa, Arkansas' foe this week, was wallowed 40-12 Saturday by Memphis State.

That doesn't mean Tulsa won't be tough, because it always is when it makes the over-the-border jump to Fayetteville. But Coach Frank Broyles can concentrate on repairs this week as much as on Tulsa.

Broyles wrote in the dressing room blackboard after the Mississippi game "We got outfought. Next week we'll know who wants to play first team."

That means a week of hard work and nobody's sure of his job.

Two things stood out to Porker fans Saturday: how much Arkansas needed linebacker Wayne Harris, who has graduated, and how much the Hogs needed quarterback Billy Moore, who was injured.

Danny Brabham did a good job in Harris' linebacker spot, but each time a Porker slipped into the Mississippi backfield and then missed a tackle, the words on everyone's lips were, "Wayne Harris would have gotten him."

George McKinney held up well as almost the whole show of offensive quarterback. But he needed Billy Moore, the little jeep, for some quick yardage the Porkers missed.

Mississippi's ends murdered the Arkansas running game and an almost perfect pass defense allowed McKinney to complete only two aeriels.

Arkansas didn't help the cause, fumbling away three drives on the 32, 34, and 25 yard lines. And Chuck Morris intercepted a McKinney pass on the 15 to kill a better Porker push.

Mississippi rolled up 375 yards offensively while holding the Hogs to 112. The Rebels moved 68 yards to score after the opening kickoff, with quarterback Doug Elmore passing 34 yards to end Woody Dabbs for the clincher.

In the second quarter the Hogs went 75 yards and when the Hogs bucked up on the four, end Wes Sullivan kicked a field goal.

The second Red touchdown came in the third quarter on a 80-yard drive capped by Art Doty's one-yard charge. It was engineered by Elmore, as was the field goal push.

Arkansas' longest drives were for 44 yards in the first quarter, ending in a fumble, and 44 yards in the third period, ending in a wide field goal attempt by Jim Grizzle.

Halfback Lance Alworth gained 51 yards on nine carries and got away once for a 24-yard run. He returned three kickoffs, for 73 yards. Elmore gained 61 yards rushing and 81 passing.

The consensus among the Porkers was that they just didn't do their best. Broyles said Arkansas was demoralized early. Tackle John Childress said he wasn't in as good a shape as he thought he was. "I didn't think we were ourselves," said Brabham.

Fight Results

Boston—Paoli Itosi, 135, New York, knocked out Jackie Dannelly, 135, Buffalo, N.Y. 2.

Panama—Bunny Grant, 136, Jamaica stopped Guillermo Valdes 135, 8.

14-8, Maryland downed SMU 14-4 and Iowa State upset Oklahoma State in the first Big Eight encounter 14-7.
